The graph shows the distribution of S/N values for both long and short ladders. The y-axis represents the frequency, while the x-axis represents the S/N values from 10 to 24. The long ladders are represented by black bars, and the short ladders by red hatched bars. The peak frequency for short ladders is around S/N = 18, while long ladders have a lower frequency across the range.